

Encounters for Justice

A Comparative Study of How Journalists Mediate Stories of Domestic Abuse and Gender-Based Violence

27th October 2022

17.30 – 19.00

Centro di Ateneo Elena Cornaro

Via Martiri della Libertà, 8

What happens at the moment of encounter between journalist and survivor of domestic and gender-based violence? To what extent are journalists prepared for hearing, reading and speaking about crimes of violence against women? How do we as researchers relate to these experiences? And how can those moments of encounter be mobilized to challenge inequalities and gender injustices?

The research team invites you to join for an informal conversation about the work of journalists – as well as researchers – who report stories of domestic and gender-based violence, in a comparative context. This Italy-UK project is funded by the British Academy, in a joint collaboration with the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei.

Alice Baroni, STARS@UNIPD research fellow, University of Padova

Jane Freedland, Lecturer in History and Fellow of the Institute for the Humanities and Social Sciences, Queen Mary University of London

Melissa Jogie, Director of Diversifying Leadership and Senior Lecturer in the School of Education, University of Roehampton

Moderator: Claudia Padovani, University of Padova

Link Zoom: <https://unipd.zoom.us/j/88096459528>